- All animals must be current on vaccines:

Canine: Distemper/Parvo/Corona, Bordetella, and Rabies

Feline: Distemper, Feline Leukemia vaccine or Feline Leukemia test in the past year, and Rabies

- There will be an extra charge for animals which are in heat, pregnant, or have retained testicles.

Pre-Surgical Bloodwork

Before anesthesia, we will perform a pre-surgical exam, blood chemistry and CBC (complete blood count). This blood testing allows us to evaluate the health of your pet's major organs. Based on these results, we may adjust the dose or types of anesthetic we use, or possibly advise postponing the procedure. We will dispense post-surgical pain medicine for all pets when needed.

Laser Upgrade $50 additional

We recommend using the CO₂ laser for most surgical procedures. The benefits of laser surgery include less bleeding, decreased swelling, decreased post-operative pain, reduced rates of infection, and quicker recovery time after surgery.

Microchip Implantation:

$45 without registration

The HomeAgain Microchip Identification System is a permanent form of pet identification for quicker recovery if your pet should become lost. The chip is about the size of a piece of rice and is inserted under your pet's skin. Using a scanner, the chip can read back an original number registered to your name. With those numbers, your pet can be found and relocated.
